

Bold Goal Dream Team

What might you accomplish if you had your own personal “dream team” of experts, cheerleaders, and guides invested in your success?

There’s no reason you can’t have such a team, and their support and resourcefulness will prove invaluable as you move toward your Bold Goal. Below, brainstorm who might fulfill each of the 5 roles listed for your Bold Goal Dream Team.

Inspiration Group

An organization with like-minded people that meets regularly, gathers around a common purpose, and offers a meaningful structure that ensures time is respected and well-utilized.

What groups might fill this role for you?

Mastermind Group

A small, intimate, high-trust group that meets regularly, celebrates wins, and allows each person time in the “spotlight seat” to share their challenge/issue for the others to generate solutions.

Accountability Partner

Someone also striving to achieve a Bold Goal with whom you will connect regularly (weekly or bi-weekly) for updates, check-ins, and to share commitments and progress.

Who would make a terrific Accountability Partner?

Coach

A trained, certified, experienced professional who can provide objectivity, serve as a high-level thought partner, call out your 'blind spots,' and keep you purposefully moving forward.

Who would serve as an ideal Coach?

YOU

You are already on your Bold Goal Dream Team, of course, but consider what you may need to up-level in yourself in order to achieve your Bold Goal. Confidence? A particular skill? Time management? Brainstorm your responses below to help ensure you select Dream Team members to meet your specific needs.

Once you've brainstormed possibilities, prioritize them and start making calls! The sooner you set up your Bold Goal Dream Team, the sooner you'll be celebrating your Bold Goal achievement!
